
Support

For opening science, students and employees of Charles University can use institutional technical and methodological infrastructure, as well as freely available international or professional tools and services.